miQuotes allows you to recruit new annuity agents by offering them opportunity to sell life, health, disability, and critical illness insurance—along with many discount benefits like dental and vision—in all 50 states! Plus miQuotes handles all of the client calls, paperwork and policy deliveries.

Having miQuotes means that your agents will never have to say “no” to a life, health or disability insurance sales opportunity again. Better still, miQuotes can become a new source of revenue for you because you share in the revenue from each new sale as well.

Stop giving away your profits! Instead, keep your agents happy by helping them grow their business, allowing them to earn commissions from sales outside their core business and by giving them the ability to say “yes” to nearly every sales opportunity.

News of success travels fast—especially in the financial services arena. Let the success that your agents are having using miQuotes create a bridge to other successful agents. Our experience has shown that every agent having success with miQuotes is more than willing to refer another agent to your IMO.
